01. BEVEL MIRROR

You may be wondering what sets beveled mirrors apart from their counterparts.

On a regular mirror, the surface is the same all the way across - uniformly flat from one edge to the other. A beveled mirror, on the other hand, is specially cut so that the glass angles down in a consistent bevel around the mirror's perimeter. This contour gives the mirror a subtle border and a nice finished look, so a beveled mirror offers you a dressier style while keeping the mirror glass front and center. If you want an unframed mirror that's a bit more decorative, try a WINER M&G beveled mirror.

Generally these style mirrors tend to be simple, more understated designs allowing the super chic metal frame to demand the attention. This means these metal wall mirrors will work in just about any current room. Alternatively customers looking to create a focal point why not feature a metal framed wall mirror alongside other industrial style items such as a rustic console table or leather chair to create an impressive look.
